

Environmentally friendly homes are in demand. Now, with a Sun Valley Home Inspections Green Certified designation, buyers will know where to find them!

More and more homebuyers in the Wood River Valley are going green. They are shopping for homes that are healthier, environmentally friendly, and economically smarter. Sun Valley Home Inspections has been qualified by the International Association of Certified Home Inspectors and the International Association of Certified Indoor Air Consultants, Inc., to help homeowners identify design features, technologies and products in their home that green buyers are looking for.

SVHI identifies features in the home that:

- improve energy efficiency,
- reduce pollution,
- provide healthier air,
- increase comfort,
- reduce water usage preserve natural resources,
- increase durability,
- make a home quieter,
- reduce maintenance,
- lower monthly costs, and
- improve resale value.

View the Green Certified inspection form.

Sun Valley Home Inspections submits the report to InterNACHI, and if the home qualifies as Green Certified, a printed certificate will be sent to your client within 2 business days. Additionally, SVHI will provide your client with a free Green Certified yard sign to advertise the home and a free laminated flyer explaining this unique certification to Realtors and their buyers. Additionally, buyers can go online to validate the certificate.

In today's buyers market, sellers are looking for ways to set their properties apart from the rest. Qualifying your home for Green Certification is a great way to do it.